Reply:

- Since March 2000, we have implemented seven sections of full-time pedestrian streets, 30 1. sections of part-time pedestrian streets and 40 sections of traffic calming streets in Central, Wan Chai, Causeway Bay, North Point, Stanley, Tsim Sha Tsui, Jordan, Mong Kok, Sham Shui Po, Yuen Long and Sheung Shui. We plan to implement more traffic calming streets in Wan Chai, Yau Tsim Mong and Sham Shui Po.
- 2. The expenditure involved in 2006-07, 2007-08 and 2008-09 is as follows :

3. We monitor the effectiveness of the implemented pedestrian schemes on an on-going basis. The schemes are effective in improving pedestrian circulation, and in eliminating pedestrian/vehicle conflict. However, certain street management issues have arisen. Street performances, fund raising, commercial promotion activities etc occupy some road space causing nuisances and arousing public concerns. All the concerned departments have been taking follow up actions to rectify the problem and the situation has now generally improved. They will continue to monitor the situation and strengthen the enforcement action as necessary. In the Yau Tsim Mong District, for example, the District Council has set up an inter-departmental working group on pedestrianisation in Mong Kok including the Transport

Department, Hong Kong Police Force, Home Affairs Department, Food and Environmental Hygiene Department and Lands Department, to enhance the coordination in dealing with the street management issues.
