Country Delight Fanling

- The renowned natural beauty and interesting scenes in the organic farms of the North District are attractive to many.
- Little egrets gliding peacefully over the Sha Tau Kok Hoi, the verdant ridges of the A Chau area, the reddish autumn leaves of the Sweet Gum trees and the abundance of ripe tomatoes in organic farms; all these leisure and serene scenes of the countryside is an interesting contrast to the busy Luen Wo Hui Market.

A Chau, Luk Keng

A small island in the Sha Tau Kok Sea, and is one of the major habitats for local egrets.

Sweet Gum
(Liquidambar formosana)

Native deciduous tree common in the countryside. A forest of green in spring will turn to shades of red during autumn.

Four-leaf clover

The majority of White Clover (Trifolium repens) is three-leaf. It is believed that finding a four-leaf clover brings good luck.
