

Image: Hong Kong Tourism Board

Enjoy the Lantau-scape

Tung Chung

More than half of the area on Lantau has been designated as country parks. Given its rugged terrain, which rises up to 930 metres, and vast stretch of rural hinterland, the island has something to offer almost every lover of nature: a long stretch of beaches between Cheung Sha and Pui O, and scenic hiking trails across the hilly areas in Sunset Peak (Tai Tung Shan) and Lantau Peak (Fung Wong Shan). In addition, there are campsites and barbecue areas surrounded by lush vegetation, monasteries, fishing villages and small farming communities are all within reach.

More adventurous hikers may try the Lantau Trail which comprising twelve sections follows a circular Travel Route of about 70km through some of the finest picturesque sites on Lantau Island.

Tung Chung, here is the starting point for exploring the famous sceneries of Lantau Island.

